A stylized graphic of a harp, a traditional Irish symbol, is rendered in a dark, textured material. A large, white, stylized letter 'S' is superimposed over the harp. The 'S' is composed of two thick, curved lines that meet at the top and bottom, creating a central negative space. The harp's frame and strings are visible in the background, and the entire design is set against a dark, textured background.

Foreword

Shakespeare once said that music is the language of the soul because it expresses every sentiment, mood, and occasion. In keeping with our desire to present as many of this year's sentiments, moods, and occasions as is possible in one hundred forty-four pages, we have chosen music as the theme of the 1960 Shamrock. We sincerely hope that our efforts will provide many wonderful memories for you, now and in the years to come.

We Dedicate the 1960 Shamrock

To You

Because you have won our respect and admiration;

Because you are always there to help us when we are bewildered;

Because you are fair and just in every situation;

Because you are first, last and
at all times - Our Friend;

Because no one could have a more wonderful Superintendent

Mr. Arthur

Mr. Arthur

What would the school do without Mrs. Keller? She holds the position of bookkeeper and secretary. She is always ready to help us in any capacity.

Miss Ervie is the lady who gets a real workout every morning. She is in charge of the school supplies in the library. Here, L.C. Price and James Salyer fight over the pencils.

Silence is the password to Mr. Servies' office; a suspicious look greets you. Though busy with his many duties, this principal still finds time to tease or to listen to your problems.

Graduation night will climax twelve long, hard years of ups and downs, mostly downs, for the Senior Class of 1960. A fun-loving, but tired bunch, they have struggled through plays, banquets, parties, and various money-making schemes. But this is the year they've lived for since that first day in the first grade.

Although they try to leave the impression that they cannot wait until that Night-of-all-Nights, in reality they are a little sad at the thought of leaving. For, behind them, there are many memories which they will carry with them throughout their lives.

This is the End and the Beginning!

Potpourri

Features

In case you are wondering, the word potpourri (pō-pōō-rē') is a musical term which means "a medley." The purpose of this division of the annual is to present a "medley" of the events and activities of Dublin High School during the past year.

Pat Shillingburg, Sharon Ward, Alford Havens, Wayman Miller, Elizabeth Hancock, and Joyce Ann Moncrief led the student body in giving yells at the pep rallies every Friday afternoon during the football season.

The powder-puff football game drew an enthusiastic crowd when the Senior and Freshman Rebels battled the Junior and Sophomore Blue Devils. The Rebels won.

The Lions are shown as they anxiously await the start of a game.

The Dublin Lions and the Stephenville Yellow Jackets, those eternal rivals, met on October 16, 1959, in Stephenville for their annual contest. The Lions, unfortunately, were not the victors.

In a pre-game ceremony at the Homecoming contest between Dublin and Hamilton on November 13, Vicki McCarty was presented as football Sweetheart by the captains of the Dublin Lions.

The band sweetheart, Nancy Salyer, was presented at the Homecoming game ceremony by David Landes, band president.

Below are pictured the Junior High cheerleaders. They are Becky Guyger, Sylvia Brown, Barbara Richardson, Shirley Strube, and Linda Warner.

James Bassett, Jimmy Hancock, and Sidney Brown are the Lions who made the All-District teams for the 1959 season.

The hands above are the hands of some very proud Seniors. The object of each one's pride is his, or her, Senior ring. The school was filled with exultation when the rings arrived on November 23.

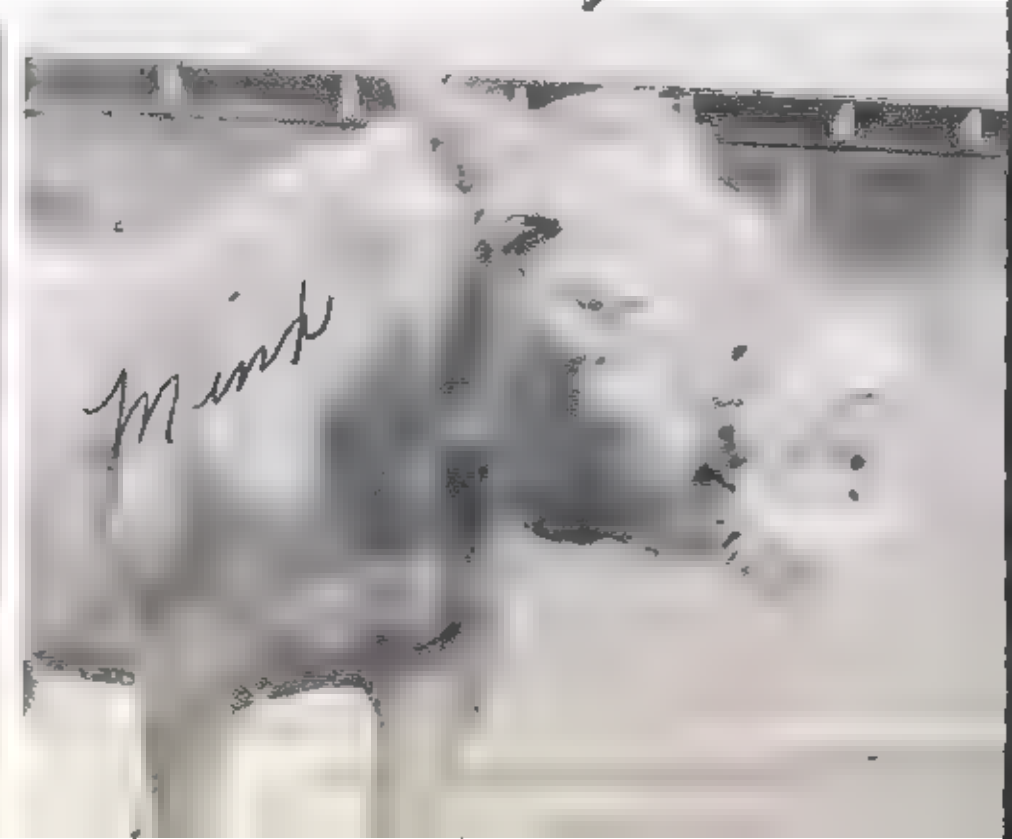

Dale West chanced upon a marvelous bargain--Army surplus boots.

Don Grant's expression of glee appeared in a moment of frenzy, when he took revenge on his favorite principal by giving his photograph a split personality.

Pat Shillingburg was the defendant in a civics class trial. She was accused of defrauding the public by adding water to the cold drinks at the Majestic Theater snack bar. E. Bone, well-known attorney, defended her. You guessed it! She was acquitted.

Judy Robbins' horse can't brush her teeth after every meal, so she uses Gleem toothpaste.

One of the most interesting sports events of the year was the basketball game between the All-Stars and the Lions. The All-Stars pictured above are Gibson, Glass, Cook, Servies, Bradberry, Keeling, Thompson, and Nentwig.

The referees for the All-Star game, who generously served without pay, were Mrs. Servies, Mrs. Moss, and Mrs. Tackett.

Dublin High School was glad to welcome three new students during the second semester. They are Frank Barbee, Nancy Warner Palmore, and Sandra Nalda.

Jim Cathey, Bobby Neal, and Roy Armstrong became homemaking students at mid-term. May they become quite skilled in the kitchen!

The Shamrock Staff knew unlimited joy and relief on March 4, when the final annual shipment was sent to Newsfoto Publishing Company in San Angelo.

ATTENTION!

Officers of 1959-60

President David Landes, Secretary Jackie Jordan, and Vice-President Alford Havens conduct the major business of the Band. These three very likable and capable students have made many contributions to Band activities in D.H.S.

Vicki McCarty, as Librarian, has the difficult and time-consuming job of keeping up with the music of this rootin'-tootin' organization. She is a very vital member of the Band.

The D.H.S. Band is well represented in other organizations. Martha Hailey has charge of the Annual pages; Nancy Salyer is Student Counsel Representative; and Luine Heizer keeps up the Band's public relations department.

The Science Club

Our 'leader' has been so busy completing the complicated instrument panel of our space-ship, "The Beatnik" that we have had but one meeting during the first semester.

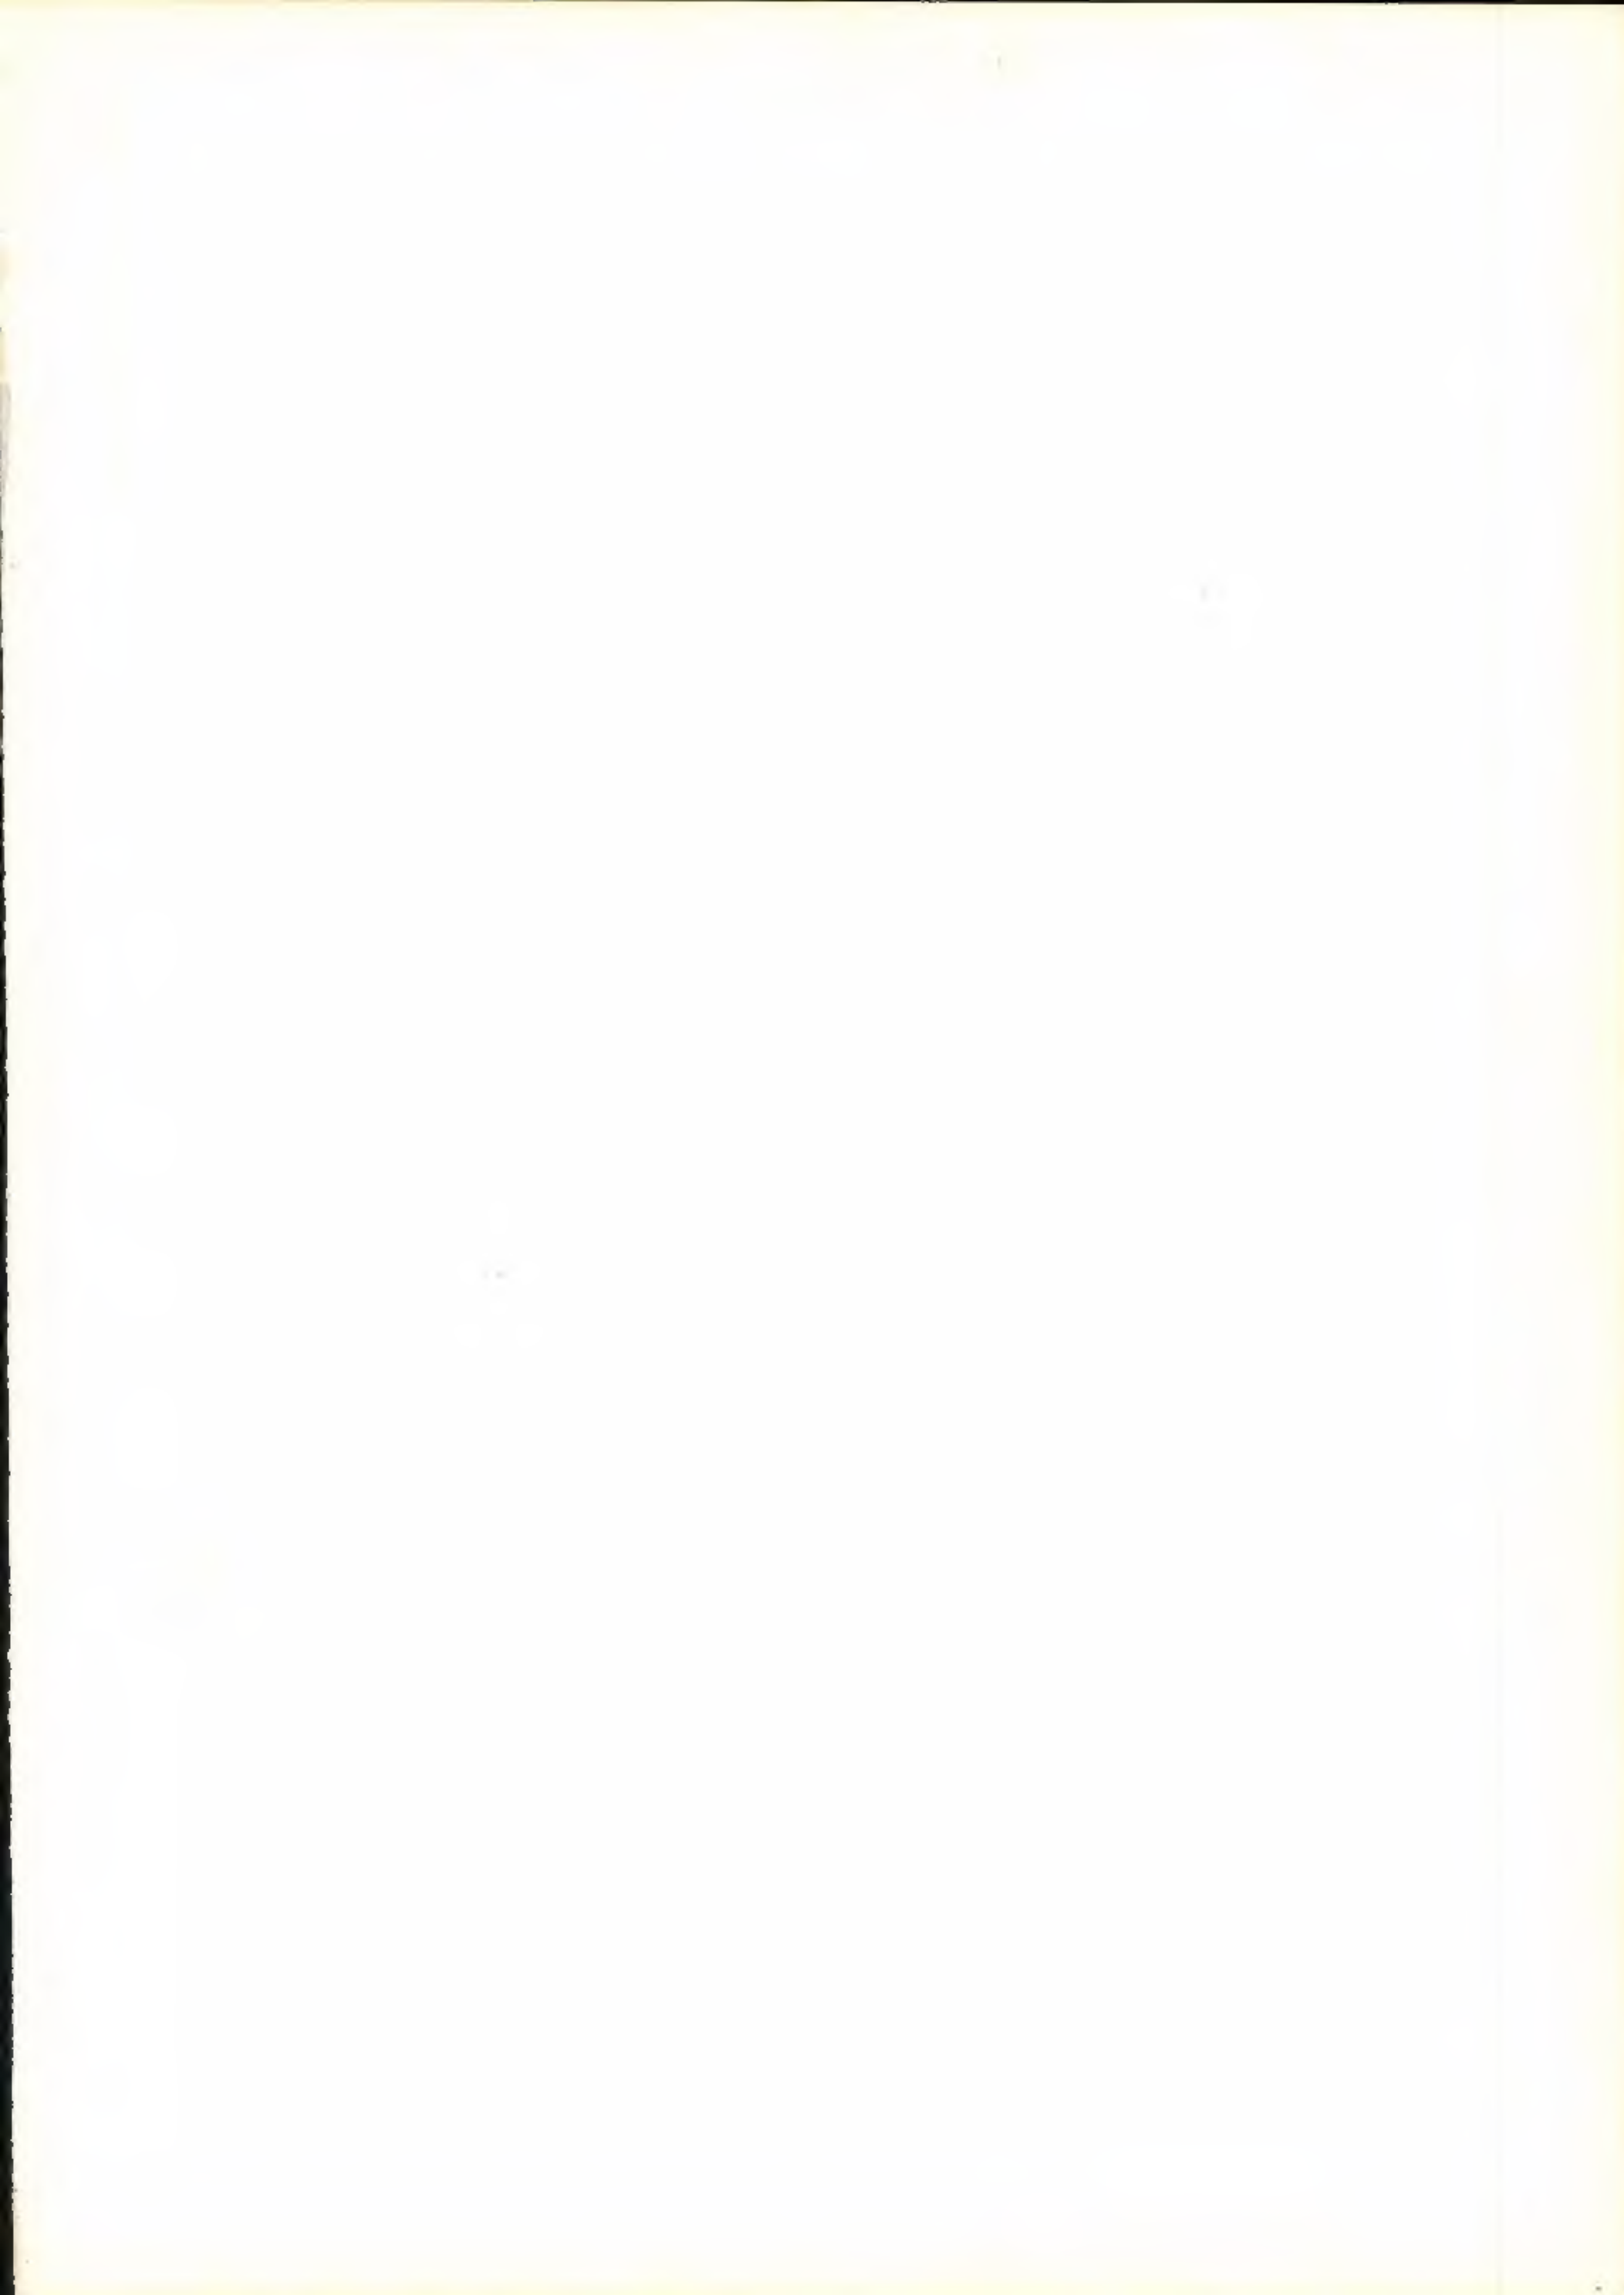

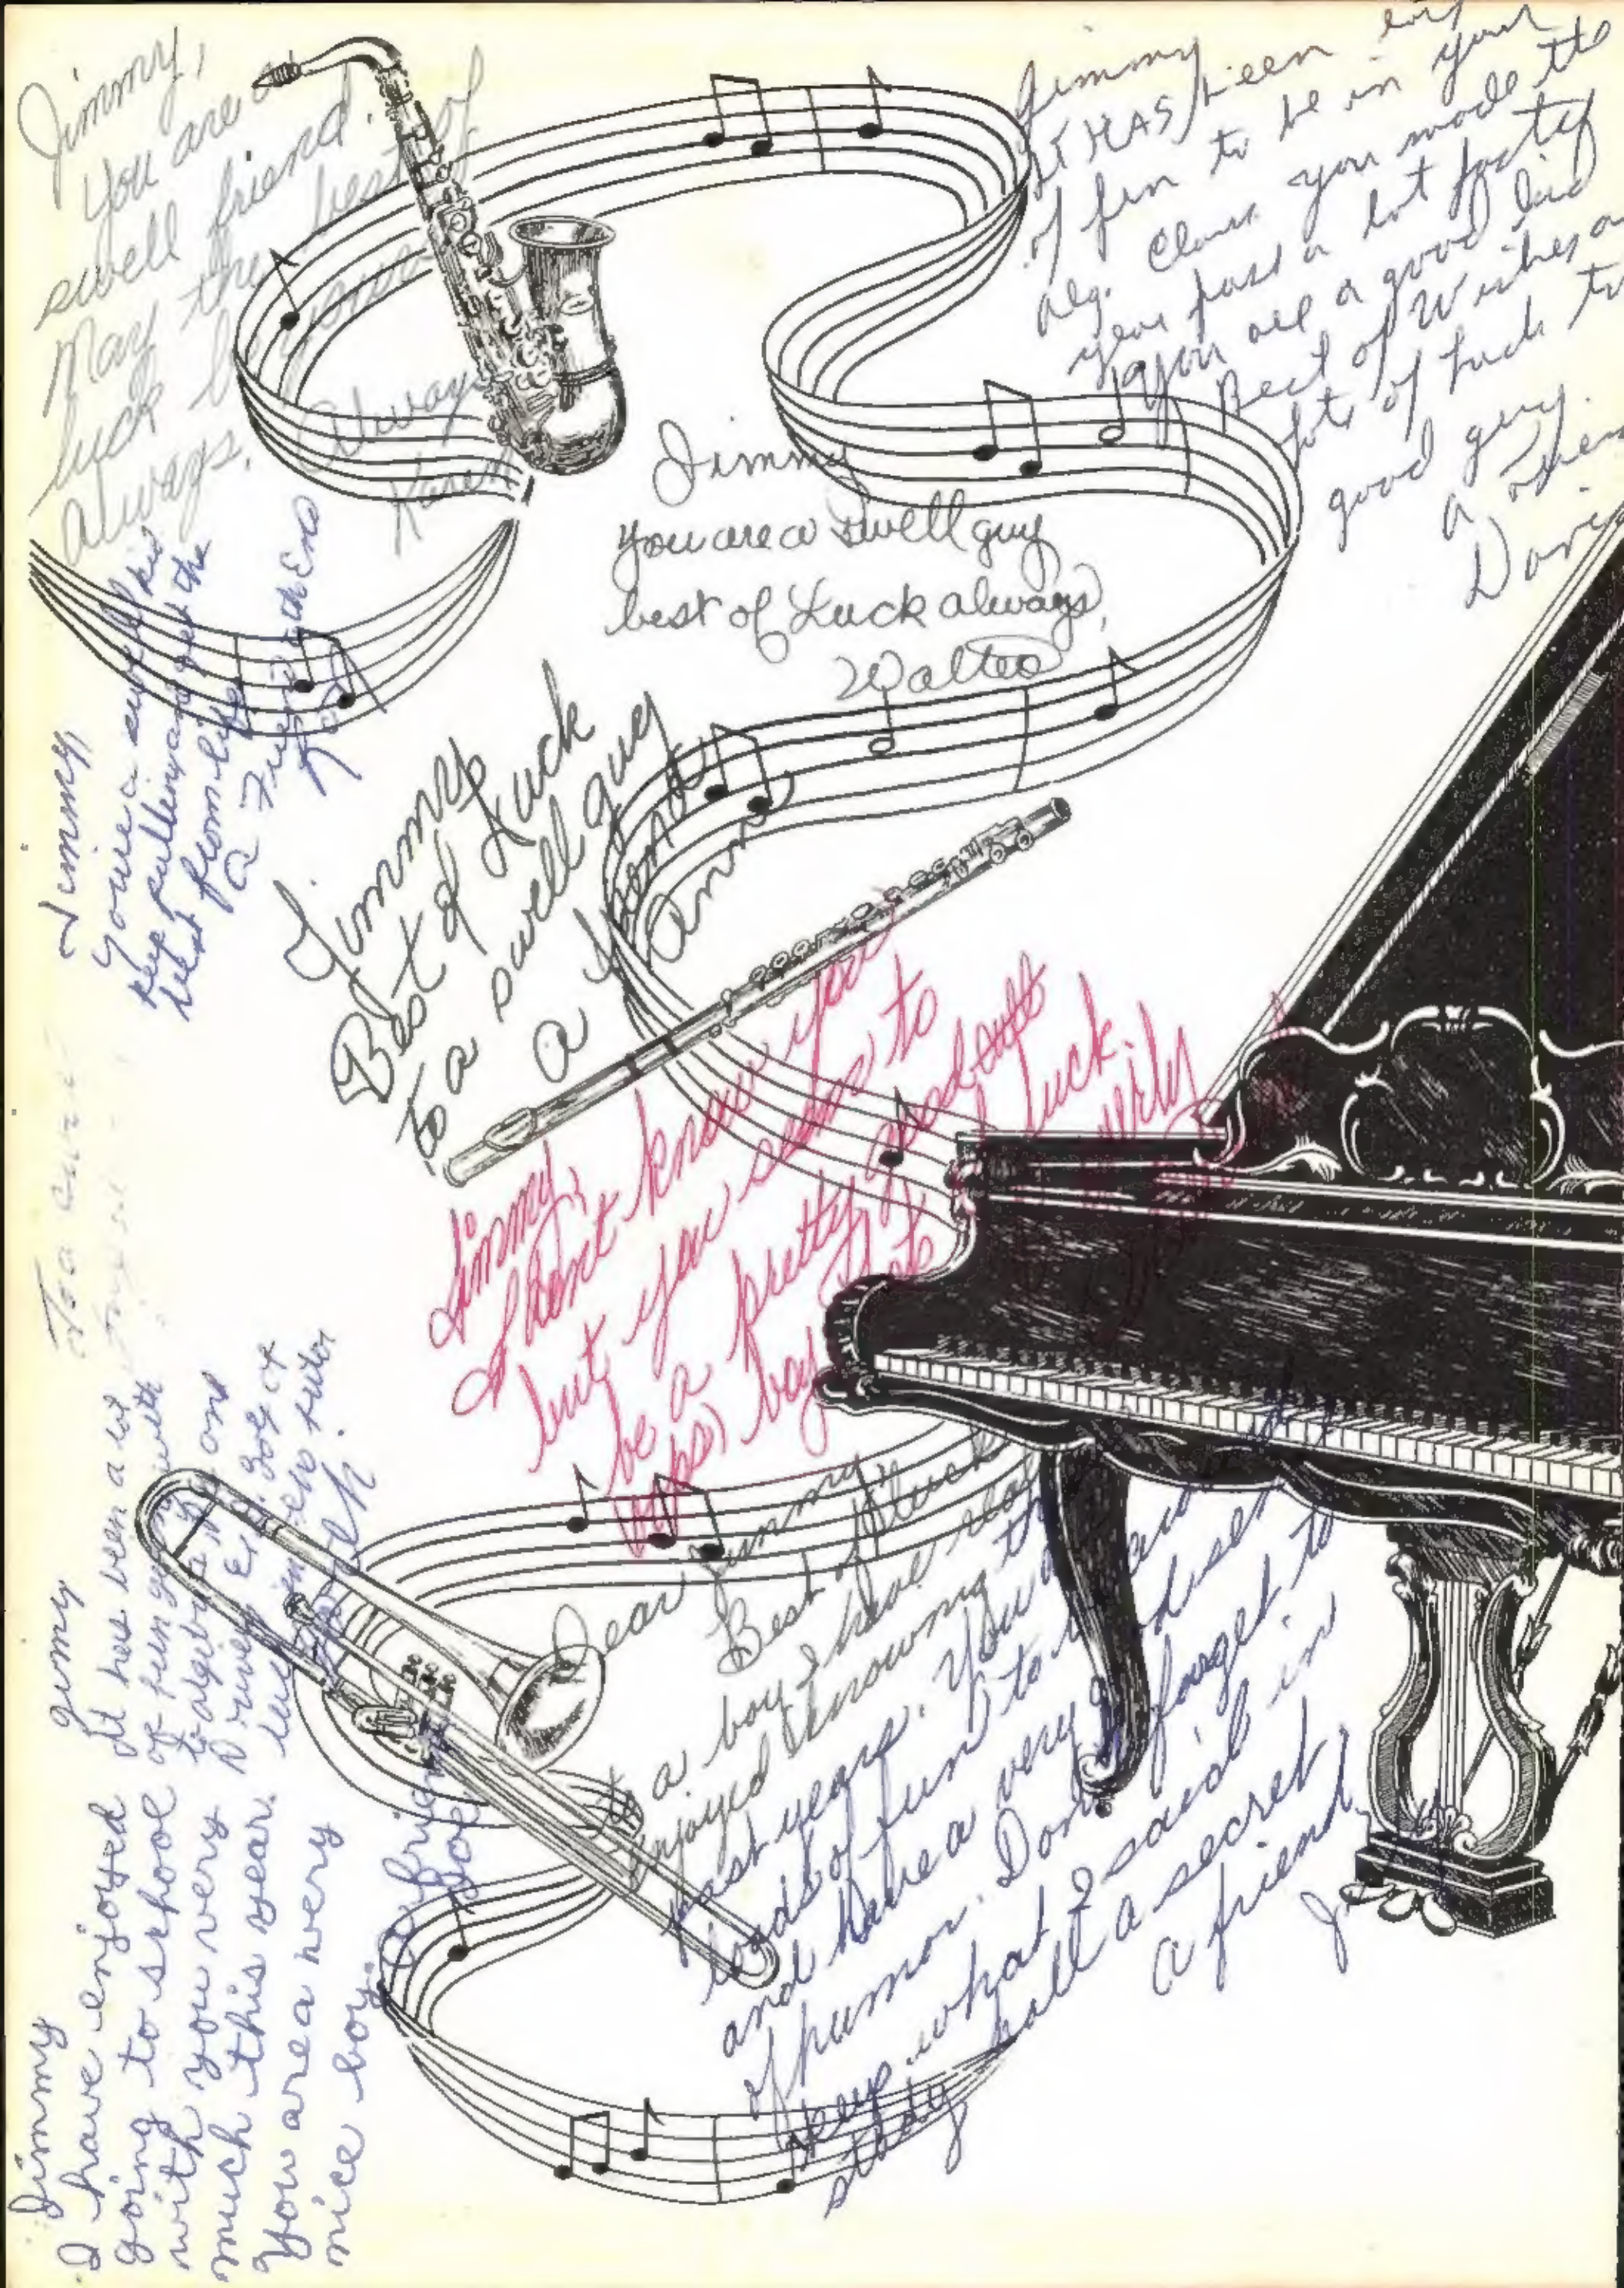

These are the members of the re-organized Science Club. Their goal is to construct a rocket. They plan to sell one-way tickets to the moon, to unwanted characters!

I think it's a pleasure sharing your company at school every year. Just remember what you say may not become you, but you sure make that kind of an impression on most people.
